Among them, 20 students were selected after a demanding evaluation process of 175 applications, 5 students participated as workshop organizers, and one student was a member of the organizing committee.

Through their participation in the 1st EULiST Student Conference, the students had the opportunity, to learn more about EULiST, its innovative actions, and the new educational and research opportunities it offers, through speeches and panel discussions, in which rectors and EULiST local coordinators of member universities, as well as members of the EULiST Student Council participated; to attend lectures by distinguished figures in Politics and Academia; to attend or even co-organize workshops on various topics (ranging from artificial intelligence, robotics, and nanotechnology to sustainability, career counselling, and soft skills); to present their own projects through pitches and posters; to socialize and have fun through social activities that highlight multiculturalism and to explore the enchanting city of Vienna.
